

Dark Horse Artbar
 2021-2022 756 E Washington Ave

some might say "well, it could barely last a year, it must not have been that great" but for me I'm even sadder that I didn't manage to check it out in such a limited time frame.

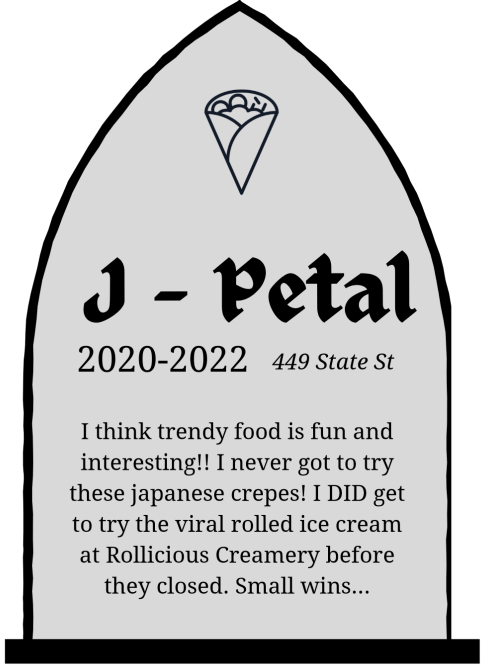

Quaker Steak & Lube
 2010-2013 222 W Gorham St

is this a chain? yes. am I a sucker for regional fast casual food? yes. they had a location downtown AND in middleton and I didn't manage to make it to either. I had to go all the way to Indiana (unrelated road trip) to try it. In all honesty, I preferred the hopcat that went in after. BUT NOW THAT'S CLOSED TOO!!

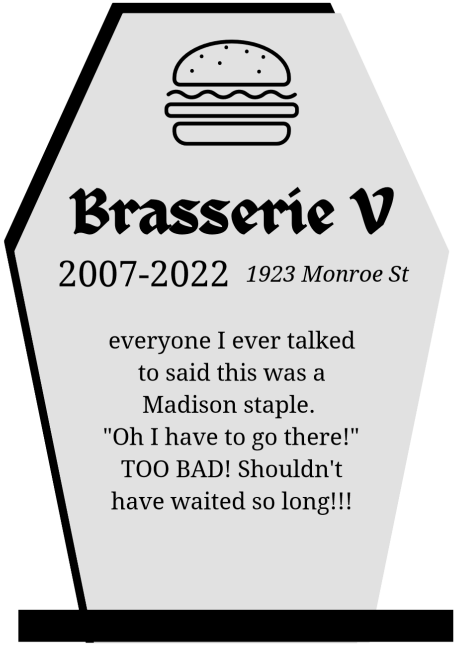

Ross's Pizza
 2003-2022 4503 Monona Dr

A pizza + arcade place out in Monona. Pretty much all of my friends have gone but I never got around to it. It's owned by new people now who allegedly have the same concept.

 2020-2022 449 State St

I think trendy food is fun and interesting!! I never got to try these japanese crepes! I DID get to try the viral rolled ice cream at Rollicious Creamery before they closed. Small wins...

Brasserie V
 2007-2022 1923 Monroe St

everyone I ever talked to said this was a Madison staple. "Oh I have to go there!" TOO BAD! Shouldn't have waited so long!!!

Double 10 Mini Hotpot
 2012-2020 / 2022-1272 S Park St

What's this? A restaurant that only closed briefly to relocate, and is still open and doing great? Yes. Due to my personal COVID precautions I still don't eat in restaurants. I may never eat in restaurants again. And Double 10 Mini Hotpot had JUST become my all time favorite restaurant in 2019. I love you Double 10...please open reservable private dining rooms...

I love keeping lists. I love trying new things. I have a long list of restaurants I want to go to in Madison.

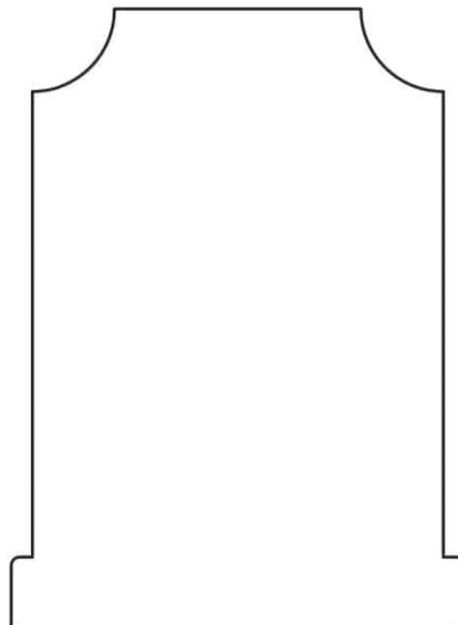

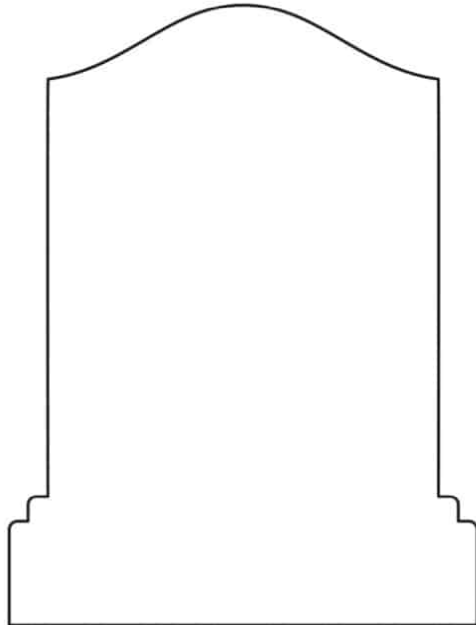

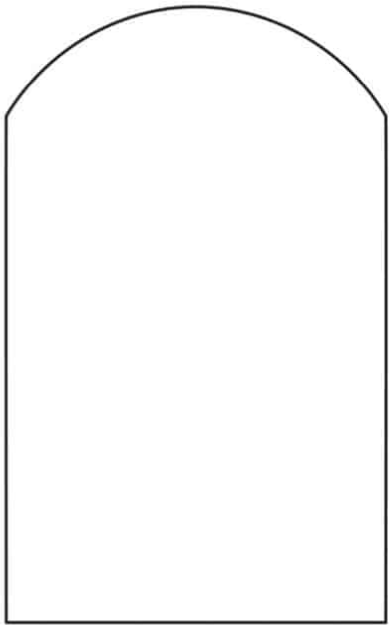

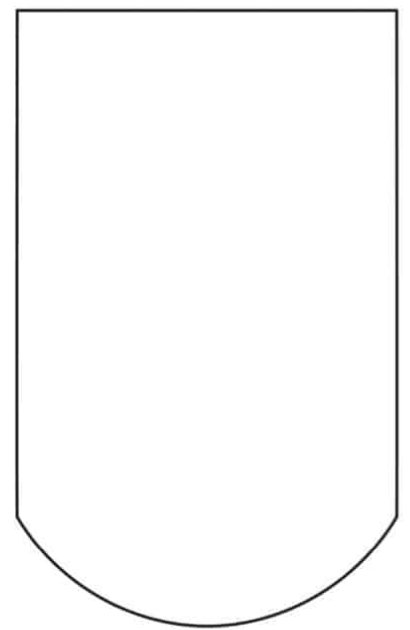

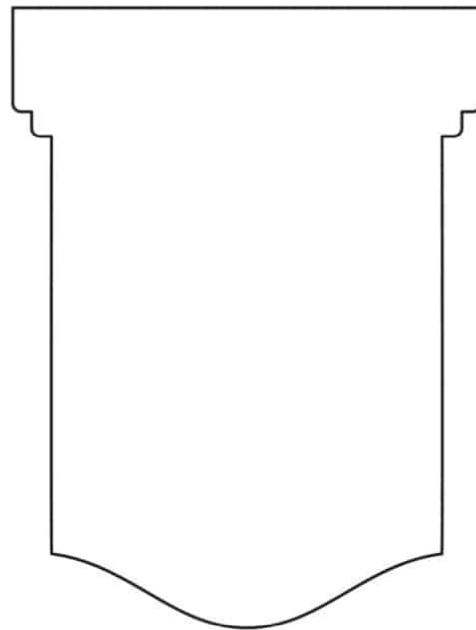

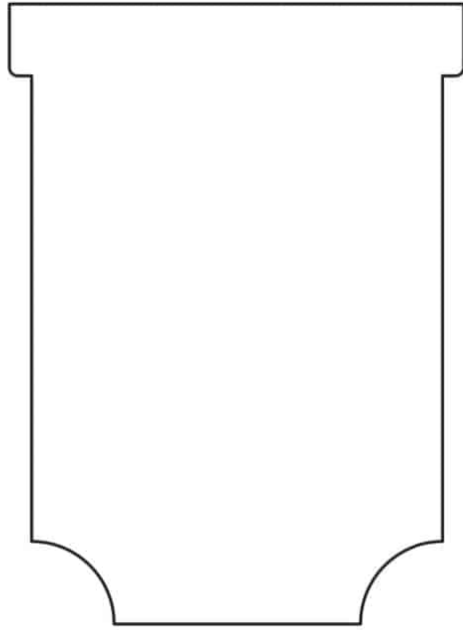

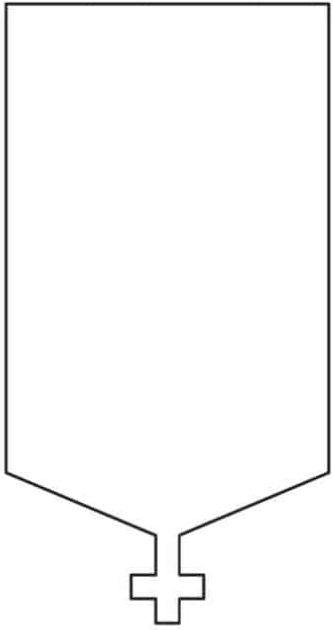

Something that has happened to me multiple times now is that I'll have a restaurant on the list long enough that it manages to close before I ever get to visit...

Exacerbate this with COVID. Multiply it by my severe FOMO. To me, this is a unique sorrow. So here's a tribute to the places I never got to eat at. May they restaurant) in peace.
